Vienna October 20. N. S. The 18th the Empreſs was crowned Queen of Hungary at Presbourg, with all the Solemnities uſual on that occaſion. The States of that Kingdom have choſen for their Palatine Count Nicholas Palfi, in the room of Prince Eſterhaſi, Deceaſed. Their Imperial Majeſties propoſe to return hither from Preſbourg the 26th Inſtant; and if the States aſſembled there do not finiſh the Buſineſs they have before them by that time, Prince Eugene of Savoy, or Count Trautſon, will be left behind till the Diet breaks up. The 15th arrived here the Valet de Chambre of M. Fabritius, Envoy of Holſtein to the King of Sweden: He left Demotica the 2d of this Month, and brings Advice, that his Swediſh Majeſty ſet out from that Place the Day before, having received a Preſent from the Grand Signior of a Tent, a Sabre, and eleven Horſes with very fine Furniture after the Turkiſh Faſhion. His ſaid Majeſty was to paſs thro' Wallachia to Tranſilvania, where he hoped to arrive about the end of this Month: His Retinue would conſiſt of above a thouſand Perſons when thoſe from Bender had joined him: He intended to continue his Journey through Hungary, Auſtria, Bavaria, and the Upper Germany.

Ratisbon, October 22. N. S. The Treaty of Peace between the Emperor and Empire and France, concluded at Baden the 7th of September, 1714. has been made publick here. The third Article of it runs in the following Terms. 'The Treaties of Weſtphalia, Nimeguen, and Ryſwick ſhall be the Baſis and Foundation 'of this Peace, and immediately after the Exchange of the 'Ratifications, they ſhall be intirely put in Execution, as 'well in regard to Spirituals as Temporals, and be inviolably obſerved for the future, unleſs in what is otherwiſe 'agreed by this Treaty. Accordingly, whatever Alterations were made during the laſt War or before it, 'or whatever was not at all or but imperfectly executed, 'or being executed was again altered, if in Fact it ſhall 'ſo appear to have been, ſhall be put into ſuch a State 'in the Empire and its Dependences, as by the ſaid Treaty 'of Ryſwick is preſcribed. In the 10th Article 'tis expreſly ſaid, 'That all and ſingular the Articles of the 'Treaty of Ryſwick are to be held for inſerted in this 'of Baden, and ſhall have Effect as if the Tenour of 'them were word for word repeated in this. By the 12th Article 'tis provided, 'That the King of France 'ſhall reſtore to the Elector Palatine, and other Princes 'and States of the Empire, whatever Territories of 'theirs he now ſtands poſſeſſed of, by Arms or otherwiſe, contrary to the Treaty of Ryſwick, and ſhall 'perform all the Conditions and Clauſes of that Treaty: And as France engages likewiſe to make good to the Duke of Lorrain all that was ſtipulated in his behalf by the Treaty of Ryſwick, ſo the Emperor and Empire promiſe to perform the Reſtitutions which by the ſame Treaty they are obliged to make to France, on 'the Terms of that Treaty. The Article of the Treaty of Baden, which transfers to the King of Pruſſia that part of Gelderland now in his Poſſeſſion provides, 'That 'it ſhall be maintain'd for ever in the ſame State it was 'in under King Charles II. of Spain, without the leaſt 'Prejudice to the Roman Catholick Religion there. The Articles relating to Italy and the Netherlands are almoſt wholly conformable to the Treaty of Raſtat. The chief Import of the Articles which relate to the Reſtitution of the Houſe of Bavaria, is, 'That the Electors of Cologn 'and Bavaria ſhall be intirely reſtored to all the Dominions Ranks Prerogatives, and Dignities, and be reinſtated in all the Rights which they did or might 'have enjoyed before the laſt War; that all Records and Papers Houſhold Furniture, Jewels and generally all 'Effects of what Nature ſoever together with all Artillery and Stores of War, which have been removed 'ſince the Emperor or his Predeceſſors had Poſſeſſion of 'Bavaria ſhall be reſtored, according to Authentick Inventories to be produced on both ſides; and that the 'juſt Value of ſuch of thoſe Effects of any kind as are 'wanting, or have been changed into other Forms, or 'cannot well be found, ſhall be paid in ready Mony, 'or be made good as ſhall be otherwiſe agreed. 'Tis likewiſe particularly ſtipulated That the Elector of 'Cologne ſhall take Poſſeſſion of his Biſhoprick of Hildeſheim, with all the Prerogatives, Rights, and Effects 'belonging to that Biſhoprick and Church, as they were 'poſſeſſed, or ought to have been poſſeſſed by the Biſhops his Predeceſſors, and that Church before the laſt 'War; ſo that no Diſpute or Pretenſion, by whomſoever raiſed or to be raiſed, ſhall hinder his intire Reſtitution thereunto. Upon the fore-mentioned plenary 'Reſtitution, the ſaid two Brothers of the Houſe of Bavaria, ſhall be obliged to renounce for ever all Pretenſions of Satisfaction or Reparation, which on account 'of the laſt War they might have againſt the Emperor, 'the Empire, and the Houſe of Auſtria; all and ſingular 'which Pretenſions are to be deemed henceforward as 'aboliſhed, and now are and for ever ſhall remain void 'and null: In like manner, all Demands from the ſaid 'two Brothers, of Satisfaction and Reparation by whomſoever made or to be made, on account of this War, 'ſhall be looked upon as aboliſhed, void, and null, from 'this time and for ever. And if the Bavarian Houſe, 'when intirely reſtored, ſhall judge it expedient and for 'its Intereſt to exchange any of its Dominions for others, his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty ſhall not give any Obſtruction to it. The laſt Article of this Treaty of Baden, ſays, 'That the Electors, Princes, and States of the 'Empire, having referred it to the Emperor to cauſe 'his Plenipotentiaries to act for them, they the ſaid Imperial Plenipotentiaries and thoſe of France do ſign 'this Treaty abſolutely, agreeing that no Proteſtation 'or Contradiction ſhall be received or be of any Validity againſt it.

This Treaty having been communicated the 2d of this Month to the Diet of the Empire aſſembled here, the three Colleges came to an unanimous Reſolution the 9th, 'to return Thanks to the Emperor for his Paternal 'Care in making the Peace, and humbly to deſire him 'to ratifie and confirm it in his own and the Empire's 'Name.

The

The ſame Day the Miniſters of the Proteſtant Body made a Proteſtation, importing, 'That they had joyned in the ſaid Reſolution, being unwilling, upon the Motives urged on the Part of the Emperor and of the States which are moſt expoſed on the Frontier, to retard the Ratification of the Peace made by his Imperial Majeſty, in vertue of the full Power given him by the Empire: That however having not only humbly addreſſed his Imperial Majeſty on the 11th of April in the Name of their Principals, to cauſe the third Article of the Treaty of Raſtat to be ſo explained in the future Congreſs to be held, as to render it conformable to the fourth and fifth Articles of the Treaty of Weſtphalia, and leave the Electors, Princes and States no ground to apprehend the known Claule in that of Ryſwick or any other Abuſes; but having alſo expreſly founded the giving their full Power to the Emperor for the Treaty on ſuch an Explanation (as appeared by the Protocols of the 21ſt of April) and laſtly, having made ſeveral Remonſtrances to the Imperial and French Ambaſſies at Baden; notwithſtanding all which the third Article of the Treaty of Baden was left the very ſame with the third Article of that of Raſtat, without any regard to their ſeveral Repreſentations; they found themſelves obliged to declare unanimouſly in the Name of the whole Proteſtant Body, that as they could not ſuffer themſelves to be forced from the Treaty of Weſtphalia, in what related to the Settlement of their Religion, ſo they would not hold themſelves obliged by the Peace of Baden, ſo far as it is contrary to that of Weſtphalia in Matters of Religion, but proteſted in the ſtrongeſt manner againſt all that is contrary thereto; reſerving to themſelves all their Rights, in purſuance of their common Vote on the 21ſt of April, which Vote ſo far as it relates to the Reſervations therein mentioned, they hereby expreſly renewed.

The ſame Day likewiſe the Baron de Seckingen, Miniſter of the Elector Palatine, made a Proteſtation in the Name of his Maſter, 'againſt the ſurrendring of the Upper Palatinate to the Elector of Bavaria, before due Satisfaction, by way of Equivalent for the ſame, be given to his Electoral Highneſs.

'Tis reported here, that the Britiſh Miniſter at the Court of France has procured a Promiſe, that a Declaration ſhall be made in the Name of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, by the Perſon who ſhall be ſent hither, that he will not obſtruct the entire Execution of the Treaty of Weſtphalia, and that therefore the third Article of the Treaties of Raſtat and Baden ſhall not be any Prejudice to the Affairs of Religion in the Empire, purſuant to the Stipulations into which his ſaid Majeſty entered by his Treaties made at Utrecht with the late Queen of Great Britain, the King of Pruſſia, and the States General.

Ratisbon, Octob. 25. N. S. The 20th Inſtant the Miniſters of the Proteſtant States were aſſembled to draw up two Letters of Recommendation to the Emperor, in behalf of the Towns of Worms and Ravenſperg, which had repreſented to them ſeveral Grievances that they had ſuffered from the Roman Catholicks: And Yeſterday a Letter of the 6th Inſtant from the Town of Spire, with ſeveral Papers incloſed, containing Complaints of the ſame Nature, was communicated to thoſe Miniſters.

Paris, Nov. 1. N. S. Yeſterday being the Day of the King of Great Britain's Coronation, Mr. Prior, his Majeſty's Plenipotentiary, celebrated it with the Magnificence and Solemnity ſuitable to his Duty and Character. He made a ſplendid Entertainment, to which the Ambaſſadors and Miniſters here of all Princes and States in Alliance with the King his Maſter were invited, as were likewiſe all the Nobility and Gentlemen of the Britiſh Nation. Wine ran for the People, and at Night he had Illuminations.

Verſailles, Nov. 2. N. S. This Day Mr. Prior had an Audience of the King, being introduced by the Marquis de Torcy Secretary of State, and by M. de Sainctot, Introductor of Ambaſſadors, and gave his Majeſty a Letter of Notification from the King of Great Britain; He had alſo Audience on the ſame Occaſion of the Dauphin, the Dutcheſs of Berry, Madame, and the Duke and Dutcheſs of Orleans. M. Amelot is nominated to go to Rome, to endeavour to reconcile the Differences between that Court and the Gallican Church, on occaſion of the Pope's late Bull. Ambaſſadors from Perſia to this Court are landed at Marſeilles. The Count d'Olonne is ordered to repair thither to receive them, and to defray their Charges as long as they ſhall remain in this Kingdom. The Court went this Afternoon to Marly, and will continue there till the beginning of next Month. The King and Court have quitted their Mourning for the Death of the late Queen of Great Britain.

Hague, Nov. 2. N. S. The 29th paſt the Counts of Nanau and Waldeck with their Counteſſes, and the Abbeſs of Schagen, ſet out for Amſterdam in their way Home. The 30th the Earl of Strafford delivered a Letter from the King of Great Britain to the States General, notifying His Majeſty's ſafe Arrival in England. The 31ſt being the Day of His Majeſty's Coronation, the Earl of Strafford gave a magnificent Entertainment and Ball, at which were preſent the chief Perſons of this State, the Foreign Miniſters with their Ladies, and others of Diſtinction of both Sexes, to the Number of between 4 and 500 many of whom were in Maſques. There was Muſick and Dancing in all the Apartments, and the whole Company was entertained at ſeveral Tables with all Sorts of Meats and Refreſhments, Wines, and other Liquors, which were ſerved to them during the whole Night. The Marquis de Chateauneuf, the French Ambaſſador, went the 27th paſt to Amſterdam, with the Marchioneſs his Daughter who lately came from France; and the 31ſt they returned hither: 'Tis ſaid he viſited all thoſe who are in the Magiſtracy at Amſterdam. Yeſterday in the Evening the Earl of Strafford had a long Conference with the Great Penſionary M. Heinſius. The William and Mary Yacht is arrived at Rotterdam, in order to carry over to England the Counteſs of Portland, who lately returned hither from Aix la Chapelle. Count Noſtitz, whom the King of Poland has appointed to Compliment his Britannick Majeſty on his Acceſſion to the Throne, is arrived here, and deſigns to imbark in a few Days for Great-Britain. 'Tis ſaid that Prince Kurakin on the Part of the Czar, and the Count d'Efferen on the Part of the Elector Palatine, are appointed to go over for the ſame purpoſe.
